

TEXAS SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

AUTHORIZATION TO CONDUCT A CRIMINAL BACKGROUND CHECK

A criminal background investigation is required for Texas Southern University positions designated as "security sensitive." This investigation into official public records will determine the existence or non-existence of a record of criminal charges. Employment in a job that is designated security sensitive is contingent upon satisfactory completion of the criminal background investigation. Applicants who decline to submit to a criminal background investigation or fail to provide required information will be denied employment for a security sensitive position. An employee may be terminated if information on this form has been falsified or if the nature of the criminal history record prohibits employment in the employee's current position.

The Texas Public Information Act, with a few exceptions, gives you the right to be informed about the information that Texas Southern University collects about you. It also gives you the right to request a copy of that information, and to have Texas Southern University correct any of that information that is wrong. You may request to receive and review any of that information, or request corrections to it, by contacting the Office of General Counsel, 3100 Cleburne Avenue, Houston, Texas 77004.

Disclosure of your Social Security number ("SSN") is requested from you in order for Texas Southern University to complete a background check. No statute or other authority requires that you disclose your SSN for that purpose. Failure to provide your SSN, however, may result in dismissal or ineligibility to be hired into the security sensitive position. Further disclosure of your SSN is governed by the Public Information Act (Chapter 552 of the Texas Government Code) and other applicable law.
